

BRYAN AND WATSON, SAY THE POPULISTS

THEIR TICKET DIFFERENT FROM DEMOCRACY'S.

Few Delegates in the Wind-And-Whiskers Convention Care to Fight Against the Boy Orator of the Platte—How the Endorsement Came.

Populist Convention Hall, St. Louis, July 25.—About half of the delegates were in their seats at 9:30 o'clock. The convention was called to order at 10, and General Weaver made an earnest and eloquent appeal for the nomination, not the endorsement, of Bryan. When he concluded, there was great cheering, delegates all jumping to their feet, and banners bearing the words, "A crown of thorns," being carried around the convention hall. Banners of many different kinds were waved.

On the roll of states, Alabama, Arizona, California, Colorado, Florida and Idaho seconded Bryan. Taubeneck, in behalf of the Illinois delegation, seconded the nomination of Bryan. Iowa and Louisiana seconded Bryan. Kentucky surrendered her time to the Tennessee delegation who seconded Bryan.

The Maine delegates were divided; part nominated S. F. Norton, of Illinois, the rest of the delegation seconded Bryan.

Donnelly of Minnesota, seconded Bryan.

Michigan seconded Bryan. Livingston nominated General Coxey. Montana and Nebraska seconded Bryan. Missouri delegates announced that they would support Bryan if he accepted the platform of the populist party.

North Carolina, Nevada, New Jersey and the majority of the New York delegation seconded Bryan as did Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota and Tennessee.

Utah and Vermont seconded Bryan. West Virginia divided, seconding Bryan and Norton.

The district of Columbia seconded Bryan.

Texas still firm in the "middle of the road." The delegation seconded Norton, but agreed to support Bryan if on the populist platform. Oklahoma and Indian Territory seconded Bryan.

Bryan's nomination was accomplished by the convention at 3:55 o'clock. The platform is substantially the same as published yesterday, with the following additions:

We demand that bona fide settlers on all public lands be granted free homes, as provided in the national homestead law, and that no exception be made in the case of Indian reservations when opened for settlement, and that all lands not now patented come under this demand.

We favor a system of direct legislation through the initiative and referendum, under proper constitutional safeguards.

We demand the election of president, vice-president and United States senators by a direct vote of the people.

We tender to the patriotic people of Cuba our deepest sympathy in their heroic struggle for political freedom and independence, and we believe the time has come when the United States, the great republic of the world, should recognize that Cuba is, and of right ought to be, a free and independent state.

We favor home rule in the territories and the District of Columbia, and the early admission of the territories as states.

All public salaries should be made to correspond to the price of labor and its products.

In times of great industrial depression, idle labor should be employed on public works as far as practicable.

The arbitrary course of the courts in assuming to imprison citizens for indirect contempt and ruling by injunction should be prevented by proper legislation.

We favor just pensions for our disabled soldiers.

Believing that the elective franchise and untrammelled ballot are essential to a government of, for and by the people, the people's party condemns the wholesale system of disfranchisement adopted in some of the states as un-republican and undemocratic, and we declare it to be the duty of the several state legislatures to take such action as will secure a full, free and fair ballot and an honest count.

While the foregoing propositions constitute the platform upon which our party stands, and for the vindication of which its organization will be maintained, we recognize that the great and pressing issue of the pending campaign upon which the present presidential election will turn is the financial question, and upon this great and specific issue between the parties we cordially invite the aid and co-operation of all organizations and citizens agreeing with us upon this vital question.

General J. S. Coxey read the first minority report. Mr. Kirby of Texas tried in vain to make the delegates listen to his minority report. He kept at it half an hour before he gave up the trial, and then turned his minority report over to the mercies of Chairman Allen. An assistant secretary tried to read it, but the delegates would not listen. Finally Chairman Allen himself took the report in hand and began to read. The convention became quiet. There was no demonstration at that portion of the platform which declared for a straight populist ticket.

A delegate from New Hampshire moved that the resolutions read by General Weaver be adopted. Delegate Valette of Rhode Island announced that he could never swallow the tariff plank in any of the resolutions. He did not believe in protection, he said, and to prove this point he handed Chairman Allen a platform which he had written himself and which he said he hoped the convention would adopt. One of the secretaries started in to read the resolutions presented by Mr. Valette. He had finished about ten of the closely-written pages, when Chairman Allen gave the Rhode Island man a shock by announcing that a motion had been made and carried that the Valette resolutions be referred to the committee on resolutions. Mr. Valette protested vehemently, but got no satisfaction.

Several attempts were made at adjournment. The convention had been in session since 10 o'clock, and it was then nearly 5. The Texans said they were hungry, and also that they wanted a chance to have "one more consultation." Finally Henry Lloyd of Chicago moved that the convention proceed to nominate a vice-president in accordance with the rules adopted by the convention. Mr. Bowman had been recognized for the purpose of making a nominating speech, when "Cyclone" Davis secured the convention's attention. He moved to adjourn until 6 o'clock in the evening, and, although the vote was close, Chairman Allen did not hesitate to declare it carried. The delegates hurried out of the convention hall for something to eat.

Judge Pollock of Missouri, a delegate to the silver convention, opened the proceedings of the evening session. He was introduced by Chairman Allen as a delegated minister from the silver convention, who had been sent over to read to the populists the platform adopted by the silver convention.

A motion was put and carried, which set the nominating machinery moving in the ordinary manner, and G. P. Bowman of Alabama took the platform to place Harris Skinner, congressman from North Carolina, who in 1882 was elected on a populist fusion ticket.

Congressman Howard of Alabama placed in nomination Thomas E. Watson of Georgia. When Arkansas was reached J. R. Sovereign, grand master workman of the Knights of Labor, seconded the nomination of Watson in behalf of Arkansas. Ashbury Johnson of California also seconded Watson. Colorado was called and "Tom" Patterson said that Colorado yielded to New York, and Lafe Pence walked to the platform. He wasted no time, but abruptly declared that he was there to place Arthur Sewall of Maine in nomination. His speech was in the nature of an argument, in which he tried to show that the convention should nominate Sewall for the good of the people's party. He argued that the populists would have to nominate Bryan's running mate to save the party.

Azmond Morphy of Georgia was the next speaker. He seconded the nomination of "Tom" Watson. He ended by asking the convention to give the south Bryan and Watson, and the democrats would take down Sewall. When Illinois was called the chairman asked to have the state passed temporarily. Delegate Stockton of Indiana seconded the nomination of Watson in behalf of the Indiana delegation.

"Calamity" Weller of Iowa placed Frank E. Burkett of Mississippi in nomination for vice-president, making the third southern man to be placed in nomination. W. H. Calhoun of Iowa said that Weller represented a small minority of the Iowa delegation, and had no right to say that he represented the Iowa men. Iowa had no candidate to offer and none to second, said Mr. Calhoun, and the Watson men cheered him.

Col. Harris of Kansas seconded the nomination of Sewall. Frank Doster of Kansas, on behalf of a minority of the Kansas delegation dissented from remarks made by Col. Harris, and seconded the nomination of "the often elected and often defrauded Tom Watson of Georgia."

Capt. Barnum of Tennessee placed A. M. Mimms of Memphis, Tenn., in nomination for vice-president. G. M. Miller of Illinois said that Illinois' first choice was Dr. H. S. Taylor of Chicago, but under the circumstances Illinois, acting after calm deliberation and not carried away by the enthusiasm of the moment, felt that the good of the people's party required the convention to nominate A. M. Mimms of Tennessee. Louisiana seconded the nomination of Watson. L. C. Bateman, populist candidate for governor of Maine, protested against the nomination of Arthur Sewall, and after twenty minutes of flowery oratory named Mann Page of Virginia. R. B. Taylor seconded Watson on behalf of Michigan. S. D. Watson, a colored delegate from Georgia, urged the convention to stand by the colored men of the south and nominate Watson. Frank M. Fogg of Michigan said the Michigan delegation was badly divided, and as some of them wanted Sewall he was there to second the nomination.

Ignatius Donnelly of Minnesota eloquently seconded Watson's nomination in behalf of his state. He expressed the hope that Watson's nomination would be made unanimous. Thomas E. Gore, the blind orator of Mississippi, seconded the nomination of Mr. Burkitt in a well-wordsed speech. When Missouri was called, a delegate arose to say that Missouri was content to have it known that she was "for the man from Maine."

Mr. Donovan of Montana seconded Sewall. Mr. Reeves of Montana repudiated Mr. Donovan's indorsement of Sewall. He seconded Burkitt's nomination. George Abbott of Nebraska made a humorous speech seconding Watson. Mr. Rogers of California spoke for Nevada, seconding Skinner's nomination.

At this stage of the proceedings Mr. Darrow of Illinois moved that the seconding speeches be limited to two minutes for each candidate. The motion was declared out of order. Arthur R. Henry of North Carolina took a firm position against Sewall, but the convention was so impatient that he did not have an opportunity to announce his preference, if he had one. The demonstrations on the part of the audience had by this time become so pronounced that it was next to impossible to hear either the names of the speakers as announced by the chair or to catch a word of what they said.

When New York was reached Mr. Pence on behalf of that state yielded his time to Colorado. As "Tom" Patterson, who has been one of the most earnest and active of Bryan's managers, arose on his chair the convention held its breath. Mr. Patterson, on behalf of Colorado, seconded the nomination of Sewall. Mr. Patterson then yielded the balance of his five minutes to Senator Stewart of Nevada. The venerable patriarchal senator came forward to the front of the platform and in pathetic tones made his appeal for the cause of silver, in which the best years of his life had been enlisted.

Senator Butler of North Carolina said that North Carolina had a candidate for vice-president, and Delegate Guthrie of that state would speak in behalf of Skinner. Mr. Guthrie said North Carolina was ready to take the "boy orator of the Platte," and a weak cheer rose from the convention, but a boisterous one came from the gallery. John Sykes of Tiffin, Ohio, seconded the nomination of Thomas Watson in a long speech. A delegate from Oregon also seconded the nomination of the Georgian, as did the spokesman for the Rhode Island delegation.

Delegate Taylor of Kentucky seconded the nomination of J. L. Mimms. Mr. Foote, from Texas, surprised the convention by seconding the nomination of Frank Burkitt. J. B. Fields of Virginia, who was General Weaver's running mate four years ago, seconded the nomination of Mann Page of Virginia. Mr. Walcher of Washington seconded the nomination of Thomas Watson with a speech. West Virginia also seconded Watson, as did Wyoming and Arizona. New Mexico, Oklahoma and Indian Territory failed to respond to the roll call.

Then "Cyclone" Davis took the platform. He seconded the nomination of Thomas E. Watson of Georgia.

The Rev. Mr. Kent of the District of Columbia seconded Sewall's nomination. His speech was arranged as the strong closing card of the Sewall men. He made a strong speech, but the delegates were restless.

General Weaver wanted the convention to adjourn after taking one ballot, but the delegates refused to listen to him, and the chairman ordered the secretary to call the roll just as the clock hands pointed to 12 o'clock midnight.

The roll call seemed to excite little interest, for there were no cheers. Before the vote was announced Mr. Burkett came to the platform and withdrew his name, at the same time asking those who had voted for him to vote as they desired. Then Candidate Mimms withdrew in favor of Watson.

Texas then changed its vote for Watson, and Tennessee followed. North Carolina also changed. Before the vote was announced the rules were suspended and Watson's nomination was declared unanimous. At that second the lights went out, and the "middle-of-the-road" men made a demonstration in the dark. This was 12:30 o'clock a. m. The chairman for some time vainly endeavored to "bring the convention to order, but at length quiet and the lights came together.

Some one called the chairman's attention to the clock, and he hastily announced that Watson was unanimously nominated for vice-president by the populist convention at 16 minutes to 1 o'clock. This coincidence started another uproar. General Weaver moved to adjourn until 10 o'clock, but Congressman Howard of Alabama moved to make it 9 o'clock, and the convention adjourned. Watson had 664 votes when the band wagon began moving. Sewall had 319 votes.

Minister Baker Coming Home.

Managua, Nicaragua, July 25.—United States Minister Lewis Baker has left here for a visit to his family in the United States and to Washington, traveling by way of San Francisco. John F. Baker, secretary of the legation, is charge d'affaires during the absence of the minister.

BRYAN AT ODDS WITH POP.

He Cannot Accept a Nomination Save On The Democratic Platform.

St. Louis, July 25.—Chairman Allen has received a telegram from Bryan, stating that as he was nominated by democrats on the democratic platform, he could only accept the nomination of the populists on the democratic platform. Bryan's official vote was 1,042; Norton, 321.

THE SIBERIAN RAILWAY.

Reasons Why It Should Be Built—Canada's Progress.

Siberia is a Russian Canada, larger and more populous, and, like Canada, it has a great future, says the Fortnightly Review. It is very rich in gold, while there are whole hills of graphite (black lead) and lapis lazuli; coal can be picked up on the very road near Nerchinsk, there is silver in the same district and there are rich mines of iron near Nikolaevsk. Siberia, like Canada, is rich in fish. On the Amur river I was told that 200,000 puds of the keta fish have been caught within a few weeks in August, when the fish ascend the rivers, the pud (pood) being forty pounds, that means 8,000,000 pounds of fish. In the Khabarovka museum is a stuffed kaluga fish, weighing thirty puds, or 1,200 pounds, caught in the Amur.

The Russians have been struck by the fact "that the prosperity of Canada and its productive activity have grown and continue to grow, with a rapidity which appears to us (Russians) miraculous, and by us imitable, just from the date of the completion of the Canadian Pacific railway from the Pacific to the Atlantic ocean." (I quote from an official report in Russian.) In 1889 they deputed two engineers to observe the Canadian line and its conditions and results. Attention in Russia was drawn to the facts that Canada, a country then of 4,000,000 people, had, by its own resources, without any pecuniary help from outside, connected the two oceans by an iron road 4,500 versts (3,000 miles) long, over very difficult and expensive ground for building, in the short time of four years; that the energetic population of Canada, 3,600,000 in 1871, and only increased to 4,300,000 in 1881, reached 5,000,000 a year or two after the first through train passed Winnipeg in 1886; that the quantity of grain carried in Canada had increased from 303,571 tons in 1886 to 500,000 tons in 1888; that in places without population there had arisen seven new towns, such as Vancouver, founded only in 1886, and holding 9,000 inhabitants in 1891. It was made known to Russia that "compared with those of the Canadian railway the technical conditions of the building of the Siberian railway were incomparably more favorable, and that the cost of the latter should not be even 65 per cent of the cost of the Canadian Pacific."

Killing a Great Buffalo.

Mr. William Astor Chanler, in his book, "Through Jungle and Desert," soon to be published, gives the following incident regarding the killing of a buffalo in Africa: "One morning, after I had been some days at Ngiri, I set out with twenty men to procure meat for the camp. The sun had not yet risen, and I was pursuing my way close to the belt of reed which surrounds the swamp when I saw in the dim light a black object standing close to the reeds. My men said it was a hippo, but as I drew nearer I could distinguish the outlines of a gigantic buffalo, broadside on and facing from the swamp. When I got within what I afterwards found by pacing it off to be 103 paces, I raised my .577 to my shoulder, and, taking careful aim at the brute's shoulder, fired. When the smoke cleared away there was nothing in sight. Knowing the danger of approaching these animals when wounded, I waited until the sun rose, and then cautiously approached the spot. The early rays of the sun witnessed the last breathings of one of the biggest buffaloes ever shot in Africa. Its head is now in the Smithsonian Institution at Washington, and, according to the measurement made by Mr. Rowland Ward, Piccadilly, London, it ranks among the first five heads ever set up by him."

Hoke Smith Said to Have Resigned.

Washington, July 25.—It is reported that Hoke Smith has placed his resignation in the hands of the president.

HOKE SMITH.

He is secretary of the interior. Mr. Smith has lately declared his intention of supporting the nominees of the Chicago convention, and it is understood this is the cause of his resigning.

Four blacks will travel with the horses.

THE TRADE REVIEW.

Business of the Country Very Slow to Improve.

New York, July 25.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: "The week begins with extreme depression in stock and speculative markets, owing to the heavy outflow of gold and the fall of the treasury reserve below the minimum. Large withdrawals of gold for hoarding were rather feared than seen. Then came sharp recovery, with the union of banks to turn $20,000,000 gold into the treasury, and of international bankers to control foreign exchange.

"The gold reserve has been quickly lifted above the $100,000,000 mark, and political events have helped to clear away apprehension. Business of all kinds has been considerably affected by the monetary conditions, and is slower to improve.

"The produce markets have been seriously depressed, lard making the lowest quotations on record, corn falling to 32 cents, wheat to 61.75 cents, and cotton to 7.12 cents. There has been a slight recovery in corn, a sixteenth in cotton, and a cent in wheat, but the main cause of low prices remains, namely, prospects of large crops with heavy stocks on hand. Old corn is coming forward at about double the rate a year ago, and so far another big yield is indicated.

"Wheat receipts at western points have been 10,275,257 bushels in three weeks, as against 4,489,443 last year, when the coming crop, if official reports are to be credited, was larger than it is now, and Atlantic exports for three weeks, four included, have been 4,663,147 bushels, against 2,522,053 last year, a large gain, but not enough to balance the increase in receipts. In spite of contradictory accounts, the impression grows that the crop may as much exceed official estimates as it did last year.

"Cotton receipts as usual insignificant, but new cotton already begins to appear some weeks earlier than usual, and the prospect for a large yield grows clearer, though owing to over-rain development the quality may be defective.

"Nothing appears of encouragement in the industries, and there has been a considerable further decline in the working force.

"Failures for the week have been 281 in the United States, against 202 last year, and 29 in Canada, against 27 last year."

SCORE OF LIVES LOST.

Swept Away by a Cloudburst Near Morrison, Col.

Morrison, Col., July 25.—A cloudburst in Bear Creek canyon, just above here, at 8 o'clock Friday night brought down a solid wall of water ten feet high, which not only did great damage to property, but caused the loss of fifteen to twenty lives. The dead:

MRS. MILLER AND THREE CHILDREN.

A party of campers, fifteen or eighteen in number, were living in a small house just below town. All but one are lost, but their names cannot now be learned.

Viola Foster, a little Denver girl who was with this party, was saved by people who heard her cries. This much has been learned on this side of the creek, but as all bridges are gone and the water is still high and swift nothing can be learned from the other side. Searching parties are out on both sides of the stream looking for bodies of dead and injured. It is feared there has been more loss of life, as there were scores of people camping along both sides of the creek, both above and below the town. Wires are down in all directions, except the telephone line to Leadville, and heavy storms between here and there threaten to break that.

Golden, Col., July 25.—The worst storm in its history broke upon this city at 7 o'clock Friday night. Three lives are known to be lost and thousands of dollars' worth of property is destroyed. The dead:

A. A. JOHNSON AND WIFE. MRS. J. F. EDWARDS.

The Johnsons were carried down with their home. James Bishop, 80 years old, was carried half a mile down stream, and finally caught a tree, from which he was rescued some hours later. His terrible experience has unsettled his reason.

The loss of property cannot be estimated at this time, but will reach many thousands. The Union Pacific, Denver & Gulf railway loses a bridge and other property. The light and water plants of the city are disabled. News is anxiously awaited from up the canyon, as it is believed there has been a heavy loss of life.

To Settle Wage Scale.

Youngstown, Ohio, July 25.—A conference between the wage committee of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers and the rolling mill operators west of Pittsburgh will be held in this city to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock. It is the belief that an agreement will be reached by which the scale will be signed with a puddling rate of $4.50. If the manufacturers will agree to pay $4.50 for puddling all the mills in the Mahoning Valley will resume operations August 1.

The Ex-Pensive Mood.

Smith—"You are in a rather pensive mood to-night, Jones." Jones—"Yes; I just got a bill for the diamond pin my wife presented me for my birthday and I am wondering where the penses are to come from to settle it."

BRYAN AND SEWALL SUIT SILVER MEN

BI-METALLIC CONVENTION ENDORSES THEM.

Democratic Nominees Declared to Be All Right and the Bulk of the Platform Seems to Be Satisfactory—Enthusiasm Over the Convention's Action.

St. Louis July 25.—The evening session of the silver convention was decisive. At 3:35 o'clock Chairman St. John rapped for order, and introduced the Rev. Mr. Hagerty, who made the opening prayer. The report of the platform committee was then made by Senator Jones of Nevada. It reads as follows:

The national silver party, in convention assembled, hereby adopts the following declaration of principles: "1. The paramount issue at this time in the United States is indisputably the money question. It is between the gold standard, gold bonds and bank currency on the one side and the bi-metallic standard, no bonds and government currency on the other.

"On this issue we declare ourselves to be in favor of a distinctively American financial system. We are unalterably opposed to the single gold standard and demand the immediate return to the constitutional standard of gold and silver by the restoration by this government, independently of any foreign power, of the unrestricted coinage of both gold and silver into standard money at the ratio of 16 to 1 and upon terms of exact equality, as they existed prior to 1873, the silver coin to be of full legal tender equally with gold for all debts and dues, public and private, and we favor such legislation as will prevent for the future the demonetization of any kind of legal-tender money by private contract.

"We hold that the power to control and regulate a paper currency is inseparable from the power to coin money, and hence that all currency intended to circulate as money should be issued and its volume controlled by the general government only, and should be legal tender.

"We are unalterably opposed to the issue by the United States of interest-bearing bonds in time of peace, and we denounce as a blunder worse than a crime the present treasury policy, concurred in by a republican house, of plunging the country in debt by hundreds of millions in the vain attempt to maintain the gold standard by borrowing gold; and we demand the payment of all coin obligations of the United States, as provided by existing laws, in either gold or silver coin, at the option of the government, and not at the option of the creditor.

"The demonetization of silver in 1873 enormously increased the demand for gold, enhancing its purchasing power and lowering all prices measured by that standard; and since that unjust and indefensible act the prices of American products have fallen upon an average nearly 50 per cent, carrying down with them proportionately the money of all other forms of property. In the effort to maintain the gold standard the country has within the last two years, in a time of profound peace and plenty, been loaded down with $262,000,000 of additional interest-bearing debt under such circumstances as to allow a syndicate of native and foreign bankers to realize a new profit of millions on a single deal. It stands confessed that the gold standard can only be upheld by so depleting our paper currency as to force the prices of our products below the European and even below the Asiatic level, thus aggravating the very evils of which our people so bitterly complain, degrading American labor and striking at the foundation of our civilization itself. The advocates of the gold standard persistently claim that the cause of our distress is overproduction—that we have produced so much that it has made us poor—which implies that the true remedy is to close the factory, abandon the farm and throw a multitude of people out of employment, a doctrine that leaves us unnerved and disheartened and absolutely without hope for the future.

"We affirm it to be unquestioned that there can be no such economic paradox as overproduction and at the same time tens of thousands of our fellow-citizens remaining half clothed and half fed and who are pitifully clamoring for the common necessities of life.

"2. That over and above all other questions of policy we are in favor of restoring to the people of the United States the time-honored money of the constitution—gold and silver, not one, but both—the money of Washington and Hamilton, and Jefferson, and Monroe, and Jackson, and Lincoln, to the end that the American people may receive honest pay for an honest product; that the American debtor may pay his obligations in an honest standard, and not in a standard that has appreciated 100 per cent above all the great staples of our country, and to the end further that silver-standard countries may be deprived of the unjust advantages they now enjoy in the difference in exchange between gold and silver—an advantage which tariff legislation alone cannot overcome.

"We therefore confidently appeal to the people of the United States to leave in abeyance for the moment all other questions, however important and even momentous they may appear, to suffer, if need be, all former party ties and affiliations, and unite in one supreme effort to free themselves and their children from the domination of the money power—a power more destructive than any which has ever been fastened upon the civilized men of any race or in any age. And upon the consummation of our desires we invoke the gracious favor of Divine Providence.

"Inasmuch as the patriotic majority of the Chicago convention embodied in the financial plank of its platform the principles enunciated in the platform

POSTMASTER MURWIN OF FULTON IS INSANE.

Trouble Due to Sickness and Is Thought to Be Temporary—Work On the Indian Ford Bridge—Telephone Lines Under Way—Other County News.

Edgerton, July 25—Oliver P. Murwin, the young postmaster at Fulton village, was examined by local physicians for his sanity, and committed to Mendota Asylum for treatment. His mental trouble was the result of long sickness, and is thought to be only temporary.

The management of the Indian Ford creamery deny that the statement contained in an article from the New York Produce Exchange published last week to the effect that the creamery had lost $300 through the absconding of a commission merchant in that city. A consignment of butter was stopped and realized on through other dealers.

The Wisconsin Bridge Company has sent on a gang of workmen to commence the work of rebuilding the Indian Ford bridge this week. The bridge across Rock river at this point will probably be up for about sixty days. In the meantime, arrangements have been made for travel to ford the river just below the dam, where the water in ordinary stages varies from six inches to two feet in depth. A driveway has been staked out across the river and wires strung to keep travel within safe bounds.

Four carloads of telephone poles have arrived at Edgerton, to be used in rebuilding the line between Edgerton, Janesville and Stoughton. Work of putting up the line has already commenced at the Stoughton end.

WAS THERE A JOB
IN THE COLT RACE

JUDGES USED "THE DERRICK" AT THE TRACK.

Suspected a Combination Between the Driver of Prince Annanias and Dorothy—Trotting Race Record of the Track Is Lowered—Two Favorites Are Beaten.

The breaking of the track trotting record; the beating of two of their favorites; the suspicion of collusion in the colt race; and the consequent "darricking" of Driver Warner; and the mile by Happy Jack, were the features of the fun at the Driving Park yesterday afternoon. Better racing was never seen at the Janesville track, and a big crowd saw the contests.

The first race was the contest for 2:12 class trotters. Piletta, the favorite, was a big raw-boned Pilot Medium mare, and she had a world of speed. She was a bit unsteady, however, and succumbed to the superior, staying qualities of Bertie R, the Fuller entry driven by William McKinney. Abnet won the first heat, but was out of the fight after that. Joe Bassett, Abnet's driver, was fined for shaking his whip in front of Miss Nelson on the stretch during a close finish. Piletta was first in the fourth heat, but the heat was given to Bertie R, who finished second. Bertie trotted the whole course without a skip. Piletta made several breaks.

Track Record Broken.

The track record was broken in the 2:16 trotting race when Governor Strong trotted in 2:11 1/4. The mark was set at 2:11 1/4 by Klamath in the second heat of the free for all on July 17 of last year, the Governor reducing it a quarter second. This race was for big A. The Governor was a strong favorite, but Delmont was well thought of. The son of Delmarch demonstrated that confidence in him was well placed, and best the Governor in fighting finishes. Maud Wright went a good race, but was not a factor in the heat winning. McHenry drove Maud, and the race was said to be the best one she ever made. Zero was in the race the first heat, but got behind the flag. Delmont and Governor Strong were both driven by their owners, and there was a large amount of money up on the race. Governor Strong's driver was fined $10 for not heeding the starting judge's warning to "take back to the pole horse" and paid the score, although he protested that Maud Wright, who was on the inside could come faster if her driver desired.

Colt's Driver Changed.

The race for the pacing three year olds developed the excitement of the day. The other drivers charged that there was a deal between the drivers of Prince Annanias, the favorite, and Dorothy, who finished second. They said that Driver Warner pulled out to let Driver Elliott pass him and that there was a "hen on." The patrol judge stated that Warner had laid over when Elliott called to him, but Warner claimed that he simply pulled out to get better footing away from the mud at the pole. The heat was then declared "no heat" and Richard Curtis was put behind Dorothy. The next mile was two seconds faster. Dorothy was the contending horse, and carried the Prince into the stretch at a merry clip. Then Dorothy broke and finished fourth in 2:19 1/4.

Happy Jack, the trick pacer, got a round of enthusiastic applause. He went to the quarter in 33 1/2 seconds, the half in 1:06, and the mile in 2:14 1/4.

The track was a second and a half slow, because of two soft spots. The completed summaries:

RAILROADS WANT THE BUSINESS

Competition for Horse Shipments Keen Between the Two Lines.

Today was a busy one for Freight Agent Ransom, of the Northwestern, and Agent Hinrich, of the St. Paul road. Both were working to secure the business of the horsemen who will leave the city tonight. A number of the palace horse cars that are now in the city, will be shipped to winter quarters in the far south, and each of these shipments means many dollars for the railroad company.

HIS LAND MORTGAGED FOR $1,000

Reason Why McKinley's Old Friend Thought of Voting For Bryan

A pointed anecdote is told of Major McKinley's practical way of reasoning on the silver question. The other day an old acquaintance called upon him and told him he was going to vote for the free coinage of silver. In his quiet, peasant way the major asked the man to give his reasons: "I owe five thousand dollars. I can't see my way to paying it, but I think I could if we had free silver." "When is the money due?" inquired the major. "One note for two thousand dollars is due next December 1, and the other for three thousand is due January 1." "Very well. Let us see what would happen if the free silver men elect their president and elect a majority of the new house of representatives. The President might call the new congress together next March, and, supposing the senate to be for free 16-to-1 coinage, a silver bill might be passed by the first of April. But what is the bank going to do with your notes when they fall due next December and January? Is it going to extend them so you can pay them off in 53-cent dollars? Will not the bank shut down on you promptly and sell you out?" "I declare, I never thought of that." "I'll think the matter over carefully." The man went away, but two days later he called again and said: "Major, I've been reflecting on that matter of my notes, and I've concluded that I will not vote for free silver."

HARMONY HAD A BIG CAUCUS.

Acheson and Whitehead Delegates Named—Rousing Majority Against Silver.

There was a big caucus in Harmony yesterday afternoon, interest centering in the candidates for sheriff. It is understood that the delegates named are for T. A. Acheson for sheriff and J. M. Whitehead for senator. Free silver was voted out by a howling majority of 68 to 1. Mr. Menzies was chairman of the caucus and C. I. Sloan secretary. The delegates chosen were:

County Convention—N. M. Jackman, William Cadwell.

Senatorial—M. J. Akin, W. H. Gray.

Assembly Delegate Convention—Wilson Martin, C. H. Wilbur.

Assembly Convention—W. R. Cleland, M. B. Clark.

"SOME DAY."

Some day, when the heat of summer is o'er,
You will stop and think, dear, of me;
How I brought to you a warm, true, love—
Yes, my whole heart I gave to thee.
Every thought of joy I ever knew
Was inspired by your eyes, dear heart.
God knows how I suffered that ere you said
We must say good bye, and part.

Some day you will wish those words unsaid,
And will value a heart for its sake;
You will long to kiss lips once offered to you;
To hear vows love learned me to make.
As you gaze up at the blue vault of heaven,
Or sit 'neath the pale moon's rays,
You will wish that I was back again
As in the dear old sunny days.

Some day we shall meet again, I know,
How I dread the pain I shall feel,
For I love you dearest, I love you so,
At the thought, 't'hen now, my senses reel.
O, could I but wake one wild response
In your heart, for me as of yore,
I would be content to live and die
Treasuring it in my soul, o'er and o'er.

Some day, and to me it does not seem
So distant I can almost feel
The old love thrills I used to know,
As round my form your arms would steal.
O, how happy I was, I had but to smile
To bring you to my side those days.
How often you told me under the stars,
That you loved me, why I lived on your praise.
Alas, could I have died just then,
With no thought, 't'hen now, my senses reel.
For the only heaven I ever did know
Was just there with my head on your heart.

Must Explain the Advance in Price Many Times.

ROOTS OF TREES BLOCK THE SEWER

The Court House Drain Was Closed By Nature.

The cause of the blocking of the Court House sewer has at last been discovered. The spreading roots of the near by trees caused all of the trouble. During the past four years these roots have gradually worked their way through the cement at the pipe joints, and soon grew so large as to block the passage.

Nervous

People wonder why their nerves are so weak; why they get tired so easily; why they do not sleep naturally; why they have frequent headaches, indigestion and Nervous Dyspepsia. The explanation is simple. It is found in that impure blood feeding the nerves on refuse instead of the elements of strength and vigor. Opiate and nerve compounds simply deaden and do not cure. Hood's Sarsaparilla feeds the nerves pure, rich blood; gives natural sleep, perfect digestion, is the true remedy for all nervous troubles.

THE OVERFLOW OF LOCAL NEWS.

LETTERS GO ASTRAY
AND PEOPLE "KICK"SOMETHING WRONG IN RAIL-WAY MAIL SERVICE.

Missives Sent From Janesville Fail to Reach the Person to Whom They Are Directed—Trouble Is All South of this City—Arrests At Chicago.

Local postal authorities are inclined to think that some of Uncle Sam's servants in the railway mail service, should spend more of their time in Sunday school.

Letters sometimes do not reach their destinations, and then the Bower City office is called upon for an explanation by the sender.

The trouble all occurs somewhere south of this city. The complaints made, of late, indicate that something is wrong with the railway service. Several arrests have been made in Chicago of late, and the local officials thought that some of them might have a bearing on the case. However, it is said that no good has been accomplished so far, and that the "leak" has not yet been located. As complaints have been made to the secret service, it is expected that something will drop pretty soon, and then the trouble will cease, as dishonesty cannot be practiced very long before the guilty party is brought to book.

Only One Way to Get Volunteers.

There had been a lack of men joining the ranks, and the colonel was visiting a recruiting station, inspecting the workings of his recruiting sergeants. Suddenly a terrific noise of shouting and shuffling of feet came through the open window. Now it came from the stairway, intermingled with sundry loud bumps and knocks, and the door burst open, showing a red-faced, perspiring little sergeant pushing, hauling and tugging at a big country lad. The latter was doing his best to escape the firm grip of the soldier, "Halt!" cried the colonel. "How is this, sir?" he said to the sergeant. "Is this the way you secure recruits—is this, sir?" he said to the sergeant. Looked up and down, then at the colonel, and blurted out: "Sure, sir, the only way to get them volunteers is by force, sir."

FORTY YEARS OF SUFFERING FROM PILES.

Remarkable Cure of Popular Major Dean, of Columbus, Ohio.

People who suffer from that annoying and obstinate disease will be gratified to learn that science has discovered a safe, convenient and simple cure for every form of piles, as the experience of the popular Major Dean, of Columbus, Ohio, amply attests. The Major says: I would like to add my name to the thousands who have been cured by the Pyramid Pile Cure. I know from experience that it is the only remedy on earth that will effectively cure piles; plenty of remedies give relief for a time, but as for a lasting cure I had tried all the salves, lotions, etc., without success. Six boxes of the Pyramid Pile Cure entirely removed all traces of a case of piles of forty years standing.

You may rest assured that the Pyramid Pile Cure has no stancher advocate than myself.

I feel that it is my duty to allow you to use my name in any way you may see fit, in order that other sufferers may thus be directed to what I feel certain will be a speedy relief and cure.

The Pyramid Pile Cure gives instant relief and a permanent cure in all kinds of blind, bleeding, itching piles.

It is absolutely free from opiates, cocaine and similar poisons, so common in pile cures.

The Pyramid Pile Cure is sold by druggists at 50 cents and $1.00.

A book on cause and cure of Piles will be sent free by addressing the Pyramid Co., Albion, Mich.

AUSTIN ON WALT WHITMAN.

English Laureate Once Dubbed Him

"The Gull of the Mississippi."

A quarter of a century ago the new poet laureate of Great Britain wrote a book of essays called "The Poetry of the Period," writes W. S. Kennedy in The Conservator. I remembered reading in it a scurrilous, sneering chapter ("The Poetry of the Future") on Walt Whitman, and recently looked it up. This fine dandy has the insolence to dub our bard "the gull of the Mississippi" on the analogy of "The Swan of Avon." He picks out the poorest parts of Whitman, the prosaic woe, much of it later discarded by the poet, and so gives a false impression of his subject.

Austin is a formalist, a man of clothes and externals, rubrics and rituals and baboon genuflections and night-gown posings. He affirms that "Whitman's poems swarm with pages upon pages of whose horrible and ineffable nastiness his readers cannot possibly form any conception." "What is the use," cries the present poet laureate, in reference to his brother poet of America, "of proving the self-evident, that all of which Mr. Walt Whitman writes is stark, staring nonsense, both in substance and form equally?" "His grotesque, ungrammatical and repulsive rhapsodies can be fitly compared only to the painful ravings of maniacs' dens." "As Mr. Rossetti reminds us, it has been said of Mr. Whitman by one of his warmest admirers, 'He is democracy.' I really think he is in his compositions, at least; being, like it, ignorant, sanguine, noisy, coarse and chaotic! Democracy may be, and I fear is, our proximate future; and it will, as a matter of course, bring its poetry along with it. The prospect is not an agreeable one."

Second District Superintendent Convention

First Congressional District Republican Convention.

Each Assembly District will be entitled to one delegate for every 250 votes cast for the republican candidate for president in 1892, and an additional delegate for a major fraction. The several assembly districts will be entitled to representation in the convention as follows: Green; Lafayette; Kenosha; Racine, First district; Second district; Rock, First district; Second district; Third district; Walworth, First district; Second district; Walworth, First district; Second district.

THE TWO STANDARDS.

So many side issues are mixed in with the money controversy, that the average citizen has trouble in seeing the point.

The difference between the "present currency standard" and the "silver standard" is plain enough when fairly presented. At the request of a prominent Janesville democrat, who will vote for McKinley and Hobart, we present the Chicago Tribune's statement of what the word "standard" implies. As the Tribune suggests, it is no more or less than the coin or disk by which values are measured and which is called a dollar. This is termed the "unit" of American money. It is not measured by its width and thickness or by its circumference, but by its "weight." The dollar of each metal must weigh a certain number of grains and a fraction of a grain.

When any one says "a gold dollar" he simply uses a short term for saying 23 1-5 grains of pure coined gold; or if a person says "a silver dollar" it is exactly equivalent to saying 371 1-4 grains of pure coined silver.

Now, if the reader would be at the trouble of keeping these two definitions of a gold and silver dollar in his mind it would wonderfully clear up the fog which envelops the money question. He would comprehend at least what the parties were arguing about. When they called each other "gold bugs" or "silver grubs" he would know that it meant that "gold bugs" preferred 23 1-5 grains of coined gold as standard money to 371 1-4 grains of coined silver as standard money, which the "silver grubs" want. But if the inquisitive reader should ask why the "gold bugs" preferred 23 1-5 grain dollars of gold to 371 1-4 grain dollars of silver, the answer would be because they are worth under free coinage nearly twice as much in buying property as the 371 1-4 grain silver dollar.

If the same question is put to the "silver grub" he will reply as do Altgeld, Boies, Bland, Blackburn, Teller, Pennoyer, Matthews, and all the other populist democrats that the 23 1-5 grain standard gold dollar is a $2; that it is worth too much by one-half; that such a dollar will buy about double as much of anything as a 371 1-4 grain dollar of silver. Therefore, they want to drive out of circulation the 23 1-5 grain standard gold dollar and by free coinage substitute the 371 1-4 grain cheap dollar of silver, for the purpose of transacting the business of this country.

ALL IN A BUNCH.

In spite of the Sewall repudiation this last batch of St. Louis convention has cleared the political atmosphere and brushed away a good many uncertainties. The extreme 16 to 1 men are all grouped together and will all be beaten together. This is no idle boast. The republican party clearly sees the strength of the elements banded against it, and has set out intelligently and resolutely to overcome them. Whenever the party has been in its present mood it has swept the country. Much more depends on this canvass than depended on those of 1884 and 1892, and the republican party is in far better shape than it was in either of those years. Its enemies, of course, know this. The party will get thousands of honest money democratic votes in every important state whether an independent democratic ticket be put up or not. The brains, wealth, character and campaigning skill of the country are all arrayed on the honest money side. All are directly or indirectly aiding the republican ticket. Thus it is well that the repudiators, communists, anarchists, and cranks of all complexions and castes are in the same camp. The guns which hit any of them will rake them all.

One of the effects of free coinage would be a change in express money orders. There are in this country many thousand democrats who remit money to Europe by express to assist relatives. Their ten dollars is now worth its face on the other side, but under a free silver law it will be worth only five dollars. This is a specimen of how free coinage will benefit the wage-earners.

The owners of the productive silver mines of this and other countries could contribute fifteen or twenty million dollars to the campaign fund, and then make untold millions, if the free coinage of silver at 16 to 1 could be brought about.

There should be a full attendance at the caucuses next week. Rock county has need for the best men she can send to the state convention, and the Janesville primaries will do much to determine the course to be followed.

The populists wanted something more tangible than the gratitude of Bryan to bank upon. These men never allow their cranky ideas to prevent their taking good care of themselves.

Uncle Sam to the anarchists: "No, thank you boys, once is enough. I allowed you to make a tariff experiment and the result has set me dead against experiments, financial or otherwise."

The great populist auction sale at St. Louis was about the only affair of the kind in the history of this country and every patriot should pray that it retains that unique position.

It begins to look as if Mr. Sewall would be unable to even hold the democratic vote of his own state; also that somebody grossly misrepresented his "putting up" qualities.

To Anxious Parent: Just provide her with an old fashioned lover who wants to hurry up the wedding, and her "new woman" ideas will not prevent her doing the rest.

The disgruntled politicians have missed a point by not organizing a party for the restoration of the original American currency-shells.

The democrats and populists might have waited until they had won some spoils before fussing about them. Then there would be no fuss.

Every time Mr. Cleveland hears "She may have seen better days," he is said to regard it as intended as a personal insult to him.

There are people who insist that it was more a question of price than of principle at the populist convention.

Sir Smith has lost both his wife and only son during the last few years, and is now lying in a precarious condition at his house near Blyth Bridge. Sir Smith Child is Mr. Gladstone's senior by one year and for many years he sat as conservative member for north and west Staffordshire successively. The Stallington estate came to him by marriage. His late son also added by his marriage to the acres which will in time pass to the aged baronet's grandson, also Smith Child, who is now a boy of 15. ## Arbitration.

In the bright lexicon of diplomacy there's no such word as "arbitrate." There are intrigue, scheme, bribery and coercion—indeed, all arts that play upon the sordid side of men and nations, and that use dark and tortuous secrecy; but to settle an international affair openly in the fair field of intelligent discussion is an innovation that a statesman of the old school regards with suspicion.—Rev. ## BRYAN AND SEWALL.

SILVER MEN INDORSE DEMOCRATIC NOMINEES.

of the American bimetallic party, promulgated at Washington, D. C., Jan. 22, 1896, and herein reiterated, which is not only the paramount but the only real issue in the pending campaign, we therefore, recognizing that their nominees embody these patriotic principles, recommend that this convention nominate William J. Bryan of Nebraska for president and Arthur Sewall of Maine for vice president."

A motion to adopt the platform was made. Mr. Hess of Illinois objected and a wordy wrangle followed. It ended in the adoption of the platform.

Mr. Page of Nebraska moved that the convention proceed to the nomination of a presidential candidate. It prevailed. Gen. Warner said it would be necessary to nominate a candidate, rather than indorse, in order to avoid some of the peculiarities of state ballot laws.

E. E. Little of Kansas nominated William J. Bryan of Nebraska. In his speech he referred to Wall street men and said: "Christ forgave the thief and pardoned the courtesan, but the money-changers he secured from the temple." In 1860 the country looked to the west for a president in time of trouble. It got Lincoln. Today the country was in trouble, and again it looked to the "rowdy west," and it would get a man who, like Lincoln, would lead them to prosperity. This man was William J. Bryan of Nebraska, and would be the next president. Col. L. C. Pace of Nebraska seconded the nomination of Mr. Bryan in behalf of the great west.

A number of other speeches were made, and then the rules were suspended, on motion of P. V. Wise of Missouri, and Mr. Bryan was nominated by acclamation. The wildest enthusiasm followed. This was continued for ten minutes. Mr. Baker of California then moved that the convention proceed to the nomination of vice-president.

Mr. Troup of Connecticut placed the name of Arthur Sewall of Maine before the convention. He made no speech. H. T. Niles of Ohio seconded the nomination. It was then moved that Mr. Sewall be declared the vice-presidential nominee by acclamation, and the motion prevailed. The band played "America" and the delegates sang the "Doxology."

When quiet was restored Mr. Baker of California moved that each delegation select a member of the committee to notify the nominees. The motion was agreed to.

Col. Pace of Nebraska offered a resolution declaring it to be the sense of the convention that, as the democratic party had arranged to notify Bryan and Sewall in New York, the silver party notify them in Bryan's home, at Lincoln. The motion was agreed to. Thereupon the convention adjourned sine die.

SINISTER CONFESSION.

The Temperance Meeting Only Partially a Success.

"Was the temperance meeting well attended last night, Ike?" inquired the able editor of the Hawville Clarion, the other morning, says the New York World.

"Wal, yes, an' no," replied Alkali Ike judicially. "It began an' rana along that way for quite a spell, but sorter petered out in the middle of the evenin' in a drizzling gitaway, as you might call it."

"What do you mean?"

"Tell you how it was: The meetin' opened up ram-jam full of enthusiasm; the speaker tore loose an' depicted the awful work of the rum demon so vividly that the audience was soon worked up mighty near to the yellin' point. The sisters began for to sing out hally-loyers an' the brothers to grunt plenty joyful, an' then, jest as all hands were about to the point of startin' to millin' around, Appetite Bill ariz an' in a voice choked with emotion, begged the privilege of sayin' a few words. Permission havin' been granted him, he said, feelingly, that the hidjussness of liker-drinkin' had been so strongly impressed upon him that he had determined to swear off, then an' thar, an', to show that he meant to stick by his resolution, he added that as soon as the meetin' was over he aimed to go and take a jug of meller, 8-year-old Battle-Ax whisky, which he'd hid in the southwest corner of the lumber yard about the middle of the afternoon, an' destroy the vile stuff. "Upon this, the sisters an' old brothers swarmed on to Appetite, an' a grand walk-round, handshakin' ensued, an' when the solemn jollification had sorter quieted down it was noticed that about all of the gentlemen, except me an' the orator an' the good old brothers, who had been powwowin' around the reformed man had mysteriously disappeared. We couldn't seem to git up much enthusiasm after that, an' directly the meetin' adjourned."

"Where had the men gone?" asked the editor.

"Dawn to the lumber yard after that thar jug," responded Isaac.

"H'm! Why didn't you go, too?"

"Huh! No reason why I should. I'd overseen him hidin' it in the afternoon, an' had quietly removed it about ten minutes later an' hid it out in a safe place, known only to myself."

SARA'S MAKE-UP.

She Calls Massage Abominable and Uses Only Rouge and Rice Powder.

Dry rouge, rice powder and one or two pencils will give me all the effect I require, says Sara Bernhardt, in the Cosmopolitan. As with most artists, my first application is a liberal coat of cold cream. This is made under my own immediate care and consists of refined olive oil, rose water and blanc de baleine. I never use cocoa butter nor liquid preparations of any sort. Then the pencils, the rouge and the powder are applied and all blended in to produce the effect of smoothness.

With us French artists quite as much attention is given to the ears, the nostrils and the lips as to the complexion itself.

For the lips is used a simple preparation which carries nothing but the carmine coloring matter. This is a brilliant color, necessarily so to give the contrast to the exaggerated tints of the rest of the face.

Depending upon the character of the emotion to be depicted in different plays and even in different acts of the same play, about the only changes I make are in the varying proportions of red to white.

Of wax to alter the shape of the features, black court plaster to make missing teeth, of all such things I know nothing, because the roles I play require no make-up of that kind.

As I never wear a wig the only way in which I make up my hair is to dress it appropriately to my costume and the period it represents.

I do not believe in the steaming of the face or the facial massage so prevalent in America. To me it's horrible, abominable, because it spoils the skin and the face. I do not think any artist ever secured greatness by the use of make-up and the natural good looks of many actresses are spoiled, both on the stage and off, by employing cosmetics too freely.

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:

"I cannot begin to tell you what your remedies have done for me. I suffered for years with falling and neuralgia of the womb, kidney trouble and leucorrhoea in its worst form. There were times that I could not stand, was sick all over and in despair. I had not known a real well day for 15 years. I knew I must do something at once. I had tried physicians without receiving any lasting benefit. I began the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Now, I have used 9 bottles; my weight has increased 25 lbs. I tell every one to whom and what I owe my recovery, and there are 15 of my friends taking the Compound after seeing what it has done for me.

Oh, if I had known of it sooner, and saved all these years of misery. I can recommend it to every woman."

KATE YODER, 408 W. 9th St., Cincinnati, O.

Should advice be required, write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., who has the utter confidence of all intelligent American women. She will promptly tell what to do, free of charge. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is easily obtained at any druggist's, will restore any ailing woman to her normal condition quickly and permanently.

LAST DAYS RACES FULL OF INTEREST

BELL-MATCHED FIELDS AND A FAST TRACK.

Horse Lovers Had Plenty of Close Contests to Stir Their Blood and Loosen Up Their Voices—Meeting Has Been a Success Despite the Rain.

The Janesville trotting meeting came to an end with the races held this afternoon, and a goodly crowd was "in at the death." The meeting has been the best one held here in many respects, and the contests have been satisfactory to the public. The rain of Thursday marred the pleasure of the week, but aside from that, the meeting has progressed without a hitch.

Four races were on the card for today, they being the 2:12 pacing class, the 2:20 trotting class, the 2:28 trotting class and the 2:35 pacing class. In the first race there were ten side-wheelers scheduled to start. They were Ringrose, New Era, Captain W. Bright Light, Almont Bashaw, Hydrogen, Ithuriel, S. G. A., Gilles Noyes and Red Leaf. Several of these animals were known to Janesville people, having paced here before.

The horses entered. The 2:20 trotting class card had eleven probable starters enrolled, they being Squeezer, Turquoise, Senator Wilkinson, Nordica, J. T. Hanson, Lady Nutwood, Marve, Virginius, Sam, Medium, Prince and Robert Ryan. Several of these horses had also raced here. Many Janesville people wanted to see Virginius win, as the stout Lake Geneva horse, and its driver, Ed. Sherman, had many friends here.

The third race was the 2:28 trotting class, and there were ten probable starters. They were: Happy Bird, Philander, who won the 2:24 class purse on Tuesday; Ideal, Roleston, Icele Maid, Maywood, Biwabik, Quichester, Monte Cristo and Durpee. The fourth race was for the 2:35 class pacer, and probable starters were Bay Hal, who made an excellent showing in the 2:50 pacing race on Wednesday; Blaze Boy, Silver Leaf, Mary, General Miles, Miss Finley and Majoda, winner of the 2:50 pacing race on Wednesday.

Results at 4:30 O'clock. The lists of starters and the way the contests stood at 4:30 o'clock, are summarized as follows:

First race 2:12 class, pacing. Purse $800.
Ringrose, b m, by Penrose, 7 9 5 5

S. G. A., br g, by Colona, (Loomis), 9 1 1 7
Gilles Noyes, br h, by Charles Caffrey, (Pohlman), 2 2 3 4
Red Leaf, ch g, by Woodford Wilkes, (Schuler), 6 5 8 9
Time—2:12½; 2:10½; 2:13¾; 2:12¾; 0:00.

Second race, 2:20 class trotting. Purse $800.
Squeezer b g, by McEwen (Gerity), 1 1 1 1
Turquoise, b m, by Tarrent (G. A. Fuller), 6 7 3 3
Senator Wilkinson, br h, by Woodford Wilkes (Himmelman), 3 4 4 4
Nordica, s m, by Wilkesview (Castell), 7 6 7 7
J. T. Hanson, 4 5 5 5
Lady Nutwood, b m, by Nutwood (Caturia), 5 2 2 2
Sam Medium, ch h, by Prince Medium (Footie), 2 3 6 6
Prince, b h, by Prince Medium (Starts), 2 3 6 6
Time—2:16¾; 2:16¾; 2:17.

The 2:35 pace and the 2:38 trot were declared off under the rule forbidding the starting of new races after 4 p. m. on the last day of a meeting.

The fact that Virginius was drawn was a disappointment to many. Happy Jack went a mile without a driver in 2:12½.

SAW TWO BOLTERS; THEN WENT BLIND

JANESVILLE CORRESPONDENT MAKES POLITICIANS SMILE.

He Writes to the Times-Herald That He Can Find But Two Democrats In Janesville Who Have Turned Their Backs On the Chicago Nominee.

Politicians laughed when they read in the Times-Herald today this bit of correspondence:

HESITATION AT JANESVILLE.

Janesville, Wis., July 24.—A thorough canvass of the city of Janesville reveals the fact that but two democrats have thus far fully determined to bolt the Chicago ticket. They are Professor D. D. Mayne, superintendent of the public schools, who will vote for McKinley and Hobart, and Arthur M. Valentine, one of the proprietors of the Western School of Telegraphy, who denounces the platform of the democratic party and declares that he will not support its candidates.

General J. B. Whiting says that he has not yet entirely closed the doors, but he admits that the best of the opinion that the best thoughts of the wisest men of the country are necessary before a choice is made. He is opposed to a third ticket, but is not prepared to vote for Bryan and Sewall on the silver issue. J. P. Baker, druggist; J. L. Croft, teller of the First National bank and Dr. J. B. Whiting, Jr., are among those who are as yet undecided. It is too early in the campaign to ascertain definitely the course some of the prominent democrats will pursue, and they may change their minds before the campaign is over.

Glossing Over of Facts.

The dispatch was written with so manifest a desire to bolster up the Bryan cause in Rock county that its publication in the most influential and widely known sound money paper of the west was a surprise. As everybody who has tested Janesville and Rock county sentiment knows, a list of the democrats here who absolutely refuse to stand by the Chicago convention would be a long one. Many who are most determined in their opposition cannot be quoted, for obvious reasons; and many others who will swell the vast pocket vote indicate their sentiments by declarations that "McKinley will carry Wisconsin by 70,000 on the sound money issue."

The opposition to a gold democracy ticket was strengthened in Janesville by the suggestion of honest money democrats that the best way to defeat Bryan was to make no stir, but to cast honest money votes where they would count on election day.

Who The Silver Men Were.

The much-talked-about "growing silver sentiment" is due to several different conditions. One class of people with whom silver is popular is the ambitious, office-seeking politicians who must keep party fences up and machinery running or their hopes are ended. Another class is composed of democrats who would vote the democratic ticket if the platform contained a prohibition clause and the emperor of China was the candidate, and would call it principle, too. Both parties undoubtedly have their shares of this class; thus they are no factor in a political contest, as one offsets the other.

But the extent of the dissatisfaction with the Chicago ticket among broad minded, patriotic democrats—business men and farmers alike—is very great and could not have been overlooked had the writer of the Times-Herald dispatch not been deeply prejudiced.

JONES WON THE MACHINE CASE

George Paulson Ordered to Pay $132.05 For a Corn Cutter.

W. L. Jones is an agent for the McCormick Harvesting company. He sold George Paulson of Sharon a corn cutting machine which Paulson claimed did not work well. It was proven that Paulson did not work the machine according to instructions. Judge Bennett entered judgement against him for $132.05 and costs.

Hermsdorf Day.

To set aside one business day in the year as Hermsdorf day was a unique scheme of Louis Hermsdorf or his agents in New York, to furnish the people of the United States with the Hermsdorf fast black dye. In order to more perfectly impress the day or the dyer's name rather upon the minds of the people, the Hermsdorf folks at great expense, provide the leading dry goods houses in the various cities of the country, with artistic souvenirs, to be given to the public as each merchant may elect, but without any expense whatever to the merchants. The Hermsdorf day idea was carried out in many cities last year, when a pretty pen holder and pen was presented as a souvenir. We had them last year, and distributed them amongst our customers, but made no special day of it. Being Janesville's leading dry goods store, we were, of course, first approached by the Hermsdorf people with the souvenir idea. It is nothing more or less than a legitimate, simple, trade event. We are at all times alert for something novel in the way of advertising, and aim at originality. Up to the time of this paper's going to press, we have given away several hundred souvenirs and have enough to supply all who come. Our rare values in hosiery need no introduction to the people of Janesville, and Hermsdorf day will only serve to strengthen the bond of union between our excellent fast black hose and the public. J. M. Bostwick & Sons.

SUMMER FASHIONS.

Color Combinations—Gray and Yellow, Lace and Gauze Trimmings.

Purple is one of the colors whose various depths of tone combine well, and, this being a purple season, that fact is taken full advantage of in many ways. Green, too, is very fashionable, and green and purple also form a pleasing combination.

Gray and yellow are again seen in companionship, and, like green and black, the association always has a refined and exclusive look. Curiously enough, gray and yellow are not commonly placed in conjunction, by some freak of taste. Perhaps that is one reason why the combination seems so elegant.

Foulard is increasing in favor in Paris, and probably by next summer it will be universally worn here, although as yet it is tle of it is seen. It is light, cool and pretty and suited to the composition of charming toilets. Lace is the preferred trimming, with embroidery and all sorts of white accessories. Sometimes plaitings of gauze are employed as a trimming; sometimes applications. White is used as much as possible with all varieties of color and fabric. Belts of white satin, collars, vests and cuffs are seen with almost every kind of costume. Ribbons, both white, black and colored, are used to diversify plain bodices. Plaited mousseline de sole forms a part of the fashionable costumes. Sometimes the plaiting is plain; sometimes clusters of plaits alternate with plain or lace filled spaces.

Today's sketch shows a gown of blue and white checked batiste. On either side of the bodice is a panel of white guipure, the bodice and the side breadth of the skirt being joined over the panel by a lacing of black cord. The bodice is fitted at the back, while in front it forms three plaits separated by panels of white guipure. The plaits are laced together with black cord. The plain, close sleeves have full epaulets and are closed from wrist to elbow by lacings of black cord. The collar, belt and shoulder knots are of black satin; the neck and wrist frills of white tulle.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

FASHION NOTES.

Capes More and More Frivolous—Silk and Lace Collars.

Tailor made coats are made much shorter, and some of the newest come very little below the waist line. The skirts of cloth dresses are now being frilled inside the hem with silk. If they have not the frill, a silk flounced petticoat is worn matching the lining of the coat or loose jacket.

Capes are growing wider and wider and shorter and shorter. The newest ones have about six inches of opaque material at the top—velvet, brocade or silk, as the case may be—and then a deep frill of lace or chiffon headed by a full ruche of the same goods. The cape is lined with silk of a harmonizing or contrasting color, a flounce of which is carried to the edge of the chiffon frill. A wide ruche finishes the neck.

Irish crochet lace is to be worn again. It is a rich, heavy handmade lace resembling guipure, but can easily be imitated in machine made goods.

Colored silk and lace collars embroidered with sequins are worn in preference to the simpler ones seen last summer. Sequins and spangles still prevail in trimmings, appearing in millinery, on gowns and cloaks and in most of the accessories of the toilet. Belts of overlapping sequins, like the scales of a serpent, are seen, and as they are woven of elastic webbing they fit very well.

Basques are very short and are now cut in one with the bodice. They are stiffened, lined with shot or broche silk and have an inch wide ruche of the same material just inside the hem, so that a glimpse of it may be caught at the flutings. Basques are not desirable, except for an ill developed figure which requires a widening effect at the hips. A basque conceals one of the most pleasing lines of a graceful shape and divides the form into two sections, which is not artistically satisfactory.

The illustration shows a garden party gown of changeable taffeta in gray and pink, with a pattern of green foliage. The bodice is plain. The fitted bodice is covered by alternate applications of white lace insertion and gauze puffs. The corselet is plain, a rose with foliage being placed at the left side. The collar and bow are of very light changeable taffeta. The sleeves, which terminate at the elbow, are draped by paste buckles.

It would be hard to convince a man suffering from bilious colic that his agony is due to a microbe with an unpronounceable name. But one dose of DeWitt's Colic and Cholera Cure will convince him of its power to afford instant relief. It kills pain. C. D. Stevens.

Low Rate to Freeport.

On account of the races, the Northwestern line will, from July 28 to 31, inclusive, sell excursion tickets to Freeport and return at very low rates, good returning until August 1, 1896. For tickets and full information apply to agents Chicago & Northwestern Railway.

Eli Hill, Lumber City, Pa., writes: "I have been suffering from piles for twenty-five years and thought my case incurable. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve was recommended to me as a pile cure, so I bought a box and it performed a permanent cure." This is only one of thousands of similar cases. Eczema, sores and skin diseases yield quickly when it is used. C. D. Stevens

Half Rates to Salt Lake, Utah.

On account of the Annual Convention International Association of Fire Engineers, the Northwestern line, will on August 6 and 7, sell excursion tickets to Salt Lake City and return at one fare, plus $2, for the round trip. When we consider that the intestines are about five times as long as the body, we can realize the intense suffering experienced when they become inflamed. DeWitt's Colic and Cholera Cure subdues inflammation at once and completely removes the difficulty. C. D. Stevens.

Pass the good word along the line. Piles can be quickly cured without an operation by simply applying DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. C. D. Stevens.

God Gave us Two Kidneys

Instead of one. It was for a purpose. The kidneys are very important organs, for upon their activity depends our health. They are the scavengers and sewers of the body. Their lot falls the duty of filtering all poisons and impurities out of our blood by way of the urine.

They work every minute, every second, day and night. They work while we sleep. Dr. Hobbs Spargus Kidney Pills make them strong and healthy, and keep them constantly working for our good.

Hard Drinkers and Tobacco Users need these pills, for they are putting an extra labor on their kidneys. Every poison that goes into the body should come out.

Seems as if consumption always picks out the brightest and best. Fully one-sixth of all the deaths that occur in the world are caused by consumption. Many things were once considered impossible. It would be strange if medical science did not make some progress. The telegraph and telephone, the phonograph, the electric light—all were once impossible, and once it was impossible to cure consumption. That was before the time of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Taken according to directions, this standard remedy will cure 98 percent of all cases of consumption. Consumption is caused and fostered by impurity in the blood. It is cured by purity and richness of the blood—surely, certainly cured by the "Medical Discovery." It builds up solid healthy flesh and vigorous strength.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a 1008 page medical work, profusely illustrated, will be sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to cover postage only. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

ON THE PLAINS.

It was before the war. In front of Fort Gibson, a military post, situated on the borders of the Indian Territory, a number of officers were amusing themselves with games, races, shooting and boxing.

Suddenly an Indian mounted upon a splendid stallion was seen galloping toward them along the bank of the Arkansas, close to the edge of the stream. He checked the smoking animal near the group, which soon gathered around him, admiring both horse and horse-man. He had caught the beast only two days before upon the prairie, where it was roaming in native wildness, and he was riding, as he said, toward the settlements in order to barter it for the commodities with which the savage had once been unacquainted, but which now are indispensable to him.

"What! To the settlements?" cried a captain of dragoons named Brown. "You are going to the settlements, Kolibri? What would the people there do with such a noble animal? Come here, Indian. I will buy him of you, but you must first shoot me an antelope from his back without losing your seat. If you can do that, I will give you the half of what you ask and my gun into the bargain."

A smile of mockery played over the Indian's lips as he listened to these conditions. Lose his seat! The thought was an insult.

"Let the longknife," he replied, "ride this mustang only a single time before that skin that is spread out yonder, and if he does not then kiss his mother I will try what I can do upon the skin that covers the live animal."

"Good!" cried the bystanders, and Brown, with a laugh, accepted the Indian's challenge.

The Indian beckoned to one of the soldiers to step forward and directed him to hold the horse's head, while, in spite of his kicking and plunging, he put saddle and bridle upon the animal. In the meanwhile Brown, who was an excellent horseman, having satisfied himself that everything was in order, grasped the bridle and leaped into the saddle.

The Indian at once set the snorting beast at liberty, and it bounded away like the wind, leaping and plunging as if resolved to unseat its rider. But the bridle was in the hands of a master. It was, in truth, a charming spectacle to see the prudence, firmness and dexterity with which the captain initiated the noble but restive animal into the mysteries of the snaffle. After its headlong fire had somewhat abated and before he touched it with the spur, he rode it slowly and quietly back and forth across the prairie, and Kolibri watched with admiring satisfaction.

After having ridden the horse around in a wide circle, Captain Brown galloped back toward the spectators and then turned the animal's head suddenly and sharply toward the frame pointed out by the Indian, upon which hung a fresh and still bleeding buffalo skin. A slight elevation of the soil as yet prevented the horse from seeing it, but he, doubtless, scented it, for he stopped short, snorting and stamping, and drew in his finely arched neck. But a horseman like Brown cared but little for the fear of the foaming stallion. A slight touch of the spur sent him leaping furiously forward, and at the third bound he found himself close and directly before the object of his terror.

For a moment a cloud of dust hid man and horse. When it disappeared, Captain Brown was seen as firmly seated in the saddle as ever.

Laughing, he galloped back to his comrades and gave the bridle into the hands of the Indian.

"The savage has acquired a good idea of your horsemanship, captain," said one of the officers. "He was astonished to see you manage the beast so well."

"Yet it is singular," replied Brown, "that so shrewd an Indian does not seem to understand how to anticipate the movements of his horse as well as a white man. All he thinks of is to guide and restrain his beast, to keep his seat and to shoot game from the back of the animal when at full speed, while perhaps at the very moment that he leans to one side for this purpose the horse starts toward the other, and then he is almost sure to be thrown."

"I do not quite comprehend," said the officer, who had but lately been transferred to the distant western regions.

"Well," said Brown, "when, for example, you bend sideways from the saddle to take aim at any object while riding at full speed and the horse shifts toward the other side or leaps backward, it is pretty plain that man and horse must part."

"But how do you explain that? I do not understand."

A sudden exclamation from Kolibri interrupted this grave dissertation. He was pointing toward the horizon. The officers had scarcely looked in the direction toward which his arm was extended when the joyous cry, "Buffaloes!" echoed from mouth to mouth.

"It is impossible," cried Captain Brown. "By heaven, it can't be! So near, at this season? My horse here, my lad! Glorious! And, in fact, the cloud of dust yonder is almost too thick for a band of traders. What say you to it, Kolibri?"

The warrior had in the meanwhile removed the saddle and bridle from his animal, and before replying he leaped upon its back and gazed attentively across the prairie.

"Speak, Indian, speak! What sees Kolibri?"

"He sees Captain Brown's gun in his wigwam and buffalo meat before sundown."

"Away, then!" exclaimed Brown, springing quickly into the saddle.

The Indian slackened the bridle to his wild horse, and Captain Brown, who was admirably mounted, spurred closely upon the traces of the chief.

Followed by the remaining officers, they soon reached the herd, which, on perceiving their assailants, at once took to flight. The horses gained upon them, however. Kolibri seemed at first to have selected a fat young cow for his victim, but from a feeling of pride he scorned the easy prey and spurred furiously after the leader of the buffaloes, an enormous bull. By thus aiming at the head of the herd he caused the beasts to disperse in wild confusion over the plain, and the chase became scattered. But in the midst of this disorder Kolibri still pursued the victim that he had selected. He spurred his steed along its flanks, waiting for a favorable opportunity to shoot. Three times he had, Indianwise, refrained, seeking a sure and deadly aim.

The herd now plunged across a marshy spot of ground, and the Indian's horse, although not wearied, had lost somewhat of its wild impetuosity and obeyed more willingly the sure hand of its rider. Dashing through the breaking reeds at the side of the enormous animal, the noble beast found dry and firm soil beneath his feet almost at the same moment that the buffalo extricated itself from the marsh, but on reaching solid ground the latter seemed to have gained new courage. It wheeled suddenly and lowering its shaggy head toward its pursuer it in its turn became the assailant.

This movement determined the chief to shoot. Never had an Indian taken surer aim—never did more agile limbs press the flanks of a noble, wildly rushing steed, when, on the right hand, a second buffalo, which the officers were hunting before them, dashed onward close behind him, but the Indian had an eye for the victim alone. He drew the trigger and pierced the heart of the animal. At that very moment, bending sideways to the right, his steed, already affrighted at the tumult around him, scented the buffalo thundering in his rear. With a start he leaped aside to the left, and the chief was hurled from the saddle upon the horns of the furious animal in the act of passing him.

The next moment Captain Brown reached him, but all was over. Near the dead buffalo lay the pride of the Comanches, his blood mingled with that of his victim.—New York News.

A Lesson In Natural History.

A gilded steer above the cupola on the Exchange building at the stockyards tells the cattlemen which way the wind blows. The steer is a work of art and much admired, and yet it remains a contradiction to the belief that cattlemen are observers of the habits of cattle.

"What does a steer do when the wind blows hard?" an old plains cattleman was asked.

"He turns his tail to the wind, humps his back and waits for fair weather," answered the plainsman.

"There's a steer that doesn't," said his questioner, pointing to the gilded steer on the cupola, which faced a ten mile an hour wind, disregarding the well known habit of his kind.

"Well, if that ain't so, I'll be beat," said the old cattleman. "But it's just like the market, goes by contraries. Perhaps that's why it faces the wind. But I guess more likely they let the contract for that vane to a tenderfoot who never saw a steer and never was out of the city."

Down in the yards the wind blew from the north, and every steer and cow had its back to the wind and stood humped up, placidly chewing its cud.

The pictures of plains cattle in a storm by Frederic Remington all show the cattle with heads away from the wind, and plainsmen swear to the correctness of Remington's pictures. To be consistent, the gilded steer over the cupola should be set to do as do his brethren on the plains and in the pens of the stockyards. As it is he is an annoyance to many of the cattlemen at the yards, who are consistent in all things.—Kansas City Star.

Novel Fire Engine.

A quadricycle, composed of two tandem bicycles arranged side by side, has just been invented in Paris, to serve as a fire engine in cases of emergency. It is worked by four men and is fitted up with the necessary hose pipes and fittings, which occupy the space between the riders. On reaching the scene of action it will be the work of a minute to bring the hose pipes into play on the fire and a jet of water of 30 meters in length and 22 meters in height can be discharged on a building. It is estimated that 18,000 liters of water can be brought into play per hour. This novel machine has the advantage in speed over the present fire engine.—New York Tribune.
